1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 8-2-04 has been entered.

2. Claims 3-16 and 22-35 were withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species in which the election was made without traverse. However, these withdrawn claims have not yet been cancelled.

Appropriate correction is required.

3. Claims 1, 2, 17, 18, 20, 21 and 36-52 are objected to under 37 C.F.R. 1.75(a) for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1, lines 8-9, cite "said statistical description" however the antecedent basis is "predetermined statistical description". This same type of problem also occurs in claim 39, lines 8-9, claim 40, lines 8-9, claim 41, line 8. Claim 18, line 1, cites "a system" however is this referring to the same system already cited in claim 1 ? This same type of problem also occurs in claim 37. Claim 20, lines 7-8, cite "said disorder indicator behavior" which lacks clear antecedent basis. Claim 38, line 8, cites "said disorder indicator" however the antecedent basis is "measurable indicator. This same type of problem also occurs in claim 38, line 10. Claim 38, line 8, cites "said system" however the antecedent basis is "operative system". This same type of problem also occurs in claim 38, line 9. Claim 38, lines 11-12, cite "said disorder indicator behavior" which lacks clear antecedent basis. Claim 39, lines 4 and 5, cite "said system" however the antecedent basis is "external system". The preamble of claim 41 cites "A method for predicting failure in a computing system based on a top down approach..." however the body of the claim makes no reference to the "top down approach". Claim 41, line 5, cites "said system" however the antecedent basis is "computing system". This same type of problem also occurs in claims 42-46, 49, 50 and 52. Claim 45 ends with a semicolon instead of a period. Claim 48, line 2, cites "the measure number" which it appears should be "the measured number". Claim 50, line 3, cites "a messaging signaling units" which it appears should be "a messaging signaling unit". Claim 51, line 2, cites "measuring amount of time" which it appears should be "measuring an amount of time". Claim 52, line 2, cites "said indicator" however the antecedent basis is "disorder indicator". The examiner asks the applicant to better claim the limitations cited above. While the examiner understands the intentions of the applicant he feels confusion could be drawn from the limitations cited above. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 2, 17-21 and 36-39 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Searles et al. (5,991,707).

(Abstract, col. 3 lines 20-45, col. 31 lines 18-26) disclose "a measurement unit for repeatedly measuring a disorder indicator....represents a non-designated output of ...the non-designated output represents waste of said system" (Note: column 3, lines 22-25, refer to "an environmental parameter such as temperature, humidity or the like within the system or in the vicinity of the system". Thus, waste heat would be one such environmental parameter here due to its effect on the temperature within the system and/or in the vicinity of the system.) Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 6 lines 52-67, col. 7 lines 1-11, col. 31 lines 32-67, col. 32 lines 17-23) disclose "a comparator for comparing obtained measurements of said disorder indicator with a predetermined statistical description of said disorder indicator...being operable to issue a failure prediction upon determination that such a deviation is statistically significant". Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 2 lines 31-35, 45-51, 60-63, col. 3 lines 40-45) disclose "wherein said disorder indicator provides non-specific failure indications".

As per claim 2, Searles et al. (see at least abstract) disclose the feature of this claim.

As per claim 17, Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 2 lines 60-65, col. 3 lines 3-8, col. 7 lines 6-11, col. 21 lines 56-60, col. 24 lines 9-14, 38-41) disclose the feature of this claim.

As per claim 18, Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 2 lines 31-35, 45-51, 60-63, col. 3 lines 40-45) disclose the feature of this claim.

As per claim 19, Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 3 lines 20-45, col. 31 lines 18-26) disclose "a measurement unit for repeatedly measuring a disorder indicator....represents a non-designated output of ... the non-designated output represents waste of said system". Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 31 lines 23-49) disclose "a statistical unit for building up a statistical description of said disorder indicator...during a training phase of operation of said system". Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 6 lines 52-67, col. 7 lines 1-11, col. 31 lines 32-67, col. 32 lines 17-23) disclose "a system threshold, ...to apply thresholds to said disorder indicator to predict system failure". Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 2 lines 31-35, 45-51, 60-63, col. 3 lines 40-45) disclose "wherein said disorder indicator provides non-specific failure indications".

As per claim 20, Searles et al. (Abstract, col. 3 lines 20-45, col. 31 lines 18-26) disclose the repeatedly measuring a disorder indicator of a system step. Searles et al.
